

I think that it is one of the coolest things to have instant information about wather and traffic, and it is not just for being cool it also represents being able to access the info whenever I feel it is convinient. Sure tv and radio are nice, but they give me the information when they want, with xm I AM IN CONTROL